

EVI-LINHd, a Virtual Research Environment for Digital Scholarly Editing

Juan José Escribano / Elena González-Blanco / Clara Martínez / Gimena del Río

www.linhd.uned.es

EVI is an online work environment to create digital humanities projects

It gathers editing and digital publishing tools, and helps out with online collaboration

You may forget about internal computing issues

One environment to rule them all

EVI can integrate your project into the LINDAT repository

Choose your ingredients to easily create customized projects

Deploy predefined project templates

Or invent your own
